This barn has a two story center section with a gable roof and side wings with shed roofs. The shed roofs have slightly different pitches. The cornice is closed and the structure has horizontal channel rustic siding in front and vertical rustic on the sides. The right half of the facade appears to have been altered as the siding is slightly narrower than that on the left. There are three large doors on an overhead track which extends past the left side of the structure. To the right is a conventional door and centered elbow. The gable is a hayloft door. Topping the barn is a vented cupola with a rooster weathervane.

SIGNIFICANCE

19. Briefly state historical and/or architectural importance (include dates, events, and persons associated with the site.)

This barn was an original part of the A.J. "Jim Cuneo Ranch," settled in 1873. A.J. and G.A. Cuneo, brothers, settled on adjoining ranches along with the Gagliardo family (see 086-020-08). Although a nearby 19th century residence has been completely remodeled, this barn retains its original cupola, one of the few in the survey area. The Cuenos, who began with a vegetable farm, became successful orchardists, and the family currently owns this property. Though somewhat altered, this structure is still a fine example of its period and one of few with an intact cupola.
