DESCRIPTION

- 7a. Architectural style: Vernacular Cabin
- 7b. Briefly describe the present physical description of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

This structure has a two-story section with a hip-roof with a one-story section to one side. The rafter ends are exposed and the two-stories are delineated by very narrow, shingled, overhang. Casement windows with six panes are found in groups around the structure. The siding is board and batten with the battens being small redwood trunks. A post and rail balustrade runs the entire length of the structure above the raised foundation.

SIGNIFICANCE

19. Briefly state historical and/or architectural importance (include dates, events, and persons associated with the site.)
A unique structure due to its unusual exterior treatment of using small redwood trunks as battens. This house is similiar to others in the area only in its attempt to have the exterior reflect its surroundings. This cabin is located in the Fitch Mountain Resort area, subdivided for summer cabins in the late 1920's.
