DESCRIPTION

- 7a. Architectural style: Homestead
- 7b. Briefly describe the present physical description of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

This l_2^1 story house has several steep gables and a slanted bay on the right side which may have been a later addition. The cornice is boxed and some of the open gables have returns and a gable brace. The roof of the side bay has exposed rafter tails and multi-paned casement windows. Other windows are double-hung with molded and pedimented frames and decorative shutters. The house has channel rustic siding with vertical boards covering the foundation. The front porch has a hip-roof, turned posts and sawn brackets. In the rear is a tank house with a flaired upper level.
